FIFTEEN CENTS

Amundsen wins by two

Will Seemann have photo finish reshoot?

by GLORIA DAVIS

Almost a week after the ballots have been counted in the April 12 municipal election, the question of who will be sitting on the board of trustees for the village of Antioch might not be finally answered.

Although a local daily paper announced that Robert Wilton, Mabel Lou Weber and Bill Seeman were the winners, the official returns had Don Amundsen beating Seemann by two votes, not Seeman edging Amundsen by one vote, as was first announced.

The turnout, that literally turned the incumbents out, was the largest yet for a municipal election. When contacted over the weekend, Seemann said that he wasn't sure whether or not he would ask for a recount of the close choice made between Amundsen and himself.

"It will probably depend on the cost," he said.

A call to the Lake County Board of Elections quickly revealed that a candidate can ask for a recount of the votes in 25 percent of the precincts concerned for $10 per precinct.

After that, a recount of the other 75 percent of the votes must be handled much like a law suit, through the court system.

"That's interesting," said Seemann, when he was informed of this, "But I still don't know what I'm going to do," he added.

If Seemann lets the results ride, he said that he would continue to be active in the fight against Waste Management, mentioning that that committee was presently involved with the next bout due in the appellate court.

It seems that it was, "As Oakwood Knolls Goes, So Goes the Village," since the outcome of the election in Oakwood Knolls closely paralleled that of the entire election, giving Wilton the most votes, 215, then Weber, 187, and then Amundsen 161.

This is where the key to the defeat of incumbents Seemann and Claudette Skvarce might lie since this is the precinct where Amundsen really got a jump on Seemann, who drew 107.

Seemann did top Amundsen by 33 votes in Precinct 5 and picked up 24 more votes over him in the 12th and 13th, but the two played close teeter totter in the rest of the precincts.

And Skvarce failed to win in her home territory, saying, "There were really no important issues or controversies, it amounted to a popularity vote and the winners have been well-known for a long time."

Although Amundsen was unavailable to comment on his teetering victory, Weber was enthusiastic as she said the first order of business at the next board meeting on Monday, May 2, when the new board members will be sworn in, will be the budget.

Homicide, DUI sentences

Barnes guilty

Scott Barnes, 29, Oak Lawn, has been found guilty of reckless homicide and one count of driving under the influence of alcohol, in connection with the traffic death of Mary Carney, 41, Antioch.

After a three-day trial, that began on Wednesday, April 13, a Lake County jury returned with a guilty verdict on two of the three charges against Barnes, on Friday, April 15.

The jury, after deliberating for five hours, found Barnes innocent of the second charge of driving while under the influence. The presiding judge, William Block, set May 20 for the sentencing date.

The maximum sentence that Barnes could receive on the homicide charge is three years in jail and one year is the most he can receive for the drunk driving charge. Both sentences will have to be served concurrently, so the maximum time that Barnes can possibly serve in prison is three years.

In finding Barnes guilty, the jury rejected the testimony of Dr. Victor Berger, Palos Heights, who had diagnosed Barnes as a narcolepsy victim.

Barnes admitted to deleting the fact that he suffered from seizures from his drivers' license application.

Berger testified that this disease could cause Barnes to fall asleep without warning. The defense claimed that such an attack caused the vehicle that Barnes was driving to cross the center line of Rte. 83 and crash into the front end of Carney's car on Nov. 18, 1982. Carney was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident.

Assistant States' Atty. Matt Chancey, charged that regardless of the fact that he has narcolepsy, Barnes' blood test, taken at the accident scene, showed a .12 percent alcohol content, a .02 percentage excess over the state mandated .10 percent, drunken driving classification.

Chancey charged that Barnes' lack of sleep and his drinking were the causes of the accident.

Barnes testified that he pulled off the road to sleep while on the way to his brother's home in Antioch after visiting two bars and ingesting four beers.

Further defense testimony revealed that, after waking, he continued his drive to Antioch from the intersection of Grand Ave. and Rte. 45.

Barnes testified that he remembered nothing after he turned north on Rte. 83 until Carney's horn woke him seconds before the accident, which occurred two miles north of the intersection of Grand Ave. and Rte. 83.

Chancey charged that there are five intersections, a bridge and a steep curve between the points that Barnes claimed to have driven while asleep, charging this to be impossible.

Board, assessor compatible

Holtz: 'I told you so!'

by GLORIA DAVIS

"I told them that the ruling that assessors couldn't be county board members was illegal and unconstitutional when they forced me to resign in May," said Antioch Township Assessor R.G. (Bud) Holtz, when he heard that that Illinois Appellate court had just passed a ruling allowing township assessors to also be on county boards in counties whose population is under 300,000.

Holtz added that he had thought of doing what one assessor did in DuPage County, refuse to resign. That assessor filed an injunction to stop his post on the county board from being filled after he was re-elected to it. Now he is still on the board and is due back pay.

"I was told it would take $15,000 to $20,000 to fight the pressure States Atty. Fred Foreman was putting on me, and tried to get some of the others to share the expenses but no one was interested," said Holtz, who was chairman of the Lake County Board Taxation and Elections Committee.

At the time Foreman said he was just fulfilling the duty of his office, in demanding Holtz comply with the existing law.

That legislation claimed a conflict of interest in the two positions because it was the county board that had some jurisdiction over the assessors' office.

The appellate court though, now says that they see no common law incompatibility between the two offices.

The 1981 law still goes in counties that have a per head capita exceeding 300,000.

Holtz, who likes his job as assessor, said that, at present he had no plans to run for the county board again.

Township okays budget, $3,000 higher than '82

Antioch Township approved a budget of $141,254.72, about $3,000 higher than the 1982-83 budget, at the annual town meeting April 14.

The budget also includes the assessor's budget, which totals $58,320. In separate action, the board also approved the Antioch Township Library budget of $143,581.

A revenue sharing hearing was also held to distribute the township's allocation of $88,200.

According to Township Supervisor Jim Fields, the following allocations were made:

Catholic Charities, $1,000; Meals on Wheels, $2,000; Antioch Fire Dept., $1,000; Antioch Parks and Recreation, $5,000; Viking Football, $1,000; street lights, $1,500; building maintenance, $3,000; Lakes Region Historical Society, $6,000; subdivisions, $7,500; Antioch Township building (for possible expansion of facilities), $23,500; Teenage Substance Abuse, $1,000.

Antioch Rescue Squad, $6,000; Lake County Council on Alcoholism, $1,000; Senior cab fare, $4,000; Little League, $1,000; Senior Citizens Center, $1,000; office supplies for the township, $6,000; salaries (for summer high school help), $10,000; Snow Ball (teenage drug abuse program), $200; computer time rental, $8,000 and township's contribution to county-wide landfill study, $500.

At the general town meeting held the same night, Fields said two resolutions, putting a ceiling on general assistance expenditures, were passed.

The first puts a ceiling on outpatient care of $50 per day. Hospital in-patient costs were set at $100 a day, not to exceed $1,000.

"Now that the state is going to make cuts in public aid, just a couple of patients without any payment restrictions could bust us," Fields said.

The predicted general assistance budget of the 1983-84 fiscal year is $108,000. Fields estimates general assistance payments during the 1983-82 fiscal year went up between $20,000 and $25,000, and the predicted 83-84 budget could rise higher, "depending on what happens with public assistance," he said.

Antioch man dies in truck, car crash

Terry Frost, 29, Lagoon Ct., Antioch, was pronounced dead at St. Therese Trauma Center (STAATS) by Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson, after the vehicle he was driving crashed into the front of a Thelen Gravel truck, at 3:20 p.m., on Tuesday, April 12.

Robert Soma, 36, Wilmot, driver of the truck, said that as he was westbound on Rte. 173, negotiating a curve, when he saw Frost's car approaching eastbound. Frost's car crossed the double yellow line and was half-way into his lane.

Soma reported that he swerved and hit the right shoulder of the road in order to avoid hitting the approaching car but was unable to, as Frost's car struck the left front end of the truck.

A witness driving behind the truck, Harvey Petska, 29, Spring Grove, corroborated Soma's statement.

Frost's son, Patrick, 3, a passenger in the fatal car, was also taken to STAATS by the Antioch Rescue Squad with bruises and abrasions.

"Every man's neighbor is his looking glass."

April 28 opening date for 'Kiss Me Kate'

The drama division of the fine arts department of Antioch Community High School has chosen to present as its spring production the musical comedy "Kiss Me Kate", by Cole Porter, at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, April 28, 29 and 30.

"Kiss Me Kate" is two plays in one set in a second class theatre so far "off Broadway" that its called Baltimore.

Fred Graham, played by Andrew Biel, is the director and star of a musical version of "The Taming of the Shrew," the play within a play.

Fred plays the leading role of Petruchio in the Shakespeare classic and his ex-wife Lilli Vanessi, played by Diane Jurgaitis, is Kate. The lives of these two people become entangled throughout both shows, and make for much of the comedy.

Chris Waters portrays Bill Calhoun (Lucentio in "Kate") a bad gambler trying to support himself as a mediocre actor. Bill is head-over-heels in love with his seductive co-star, the adorable gold digger Lois Lane (Bianca in "Kate") played by Wendy Fabry.

Add two incompetent gangsters, played by Phillip Fabry and Joe Apostol, assorted singers, dancers and stage crew and you have the makings of a really terrific show. "Kiss Me Kate" is a play with something for everyone to enjoy. Don't miss this production. Tickets are available from members of the cast or will be available at the door.

ENDODONTIC TREATMENT

Q: A friend is having endodontic treatment. I would like to know what this is.

A: When damage to a tooth is extensive, endodontic treatment is called for. Now, some cavities look small on the surface when, actually, the decay may involve the vital pulp or nerve of the tooth. Due to old fillings or injuries, the tooth could be dying or abscessed. Thanks to the latest techniques and the science of endodontics, the dentist can save such a deceased tooth instead of extracting it. The "root canal" procedure consists of removing all the infected core or pulp of the tooth, treating the root or roots, and then sterilizing and sealing the roots completely.

Big congratulations to Pamela Kasprowszc of St. Peters School who was the winner of the American Legion Auxiliary Americanism Essay Contest. Pamela was listed along with two high school students from North Chicago and Mundelein when she was announced winner by the 10th Dist. Americanism Chairman Doris Schultz.

Pamela is due to be honored by the district on April 19, at the district's meeting in Fox Lake.

Tony Stark, who made such a big hit in the PM&L version of "Our Town" awhile back, is up to his old acting tricks at Marquette University where he is a sophomore.

Tony will be playing Riff in the university's production of "West Side Story," on April 20-24 and April 27-May 2.

The people of the Antioch area, especially the members of Antioch's Moose Lodge, will sorely miss the clown antics of Eddie Kurtz, the founder of the Moose's Clown Club.

Eddie, who was 72, passed away at Condell Memorial Hospital on April 8.

Not only was he the highlight of many local occasions with his clown interpretations, but he was active in the Moose Clubs for many years.

Winsor Dalgaard is currently convalescing from a bone marrow transplant performed April 4. Cheri, his sister was the donor. The next few weeks are very critical ones and get well mail would surely be welcomed by both Dalgaards.

Send cards to them at the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center, 1124 Columbia, Seattle, Wash., 98104.

It was a wonderful 81st birthday surprise for See McKinney on Saturday, April 9, when Mrs. Iris Gray of Bozeman, Mont., Mrs. Madelyn Meatyard of Lexington, Ky., and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McKinney of Canyon Lake, Tex., gathered to celebrate their mothers natal day.

On Monday, April 18, Antioch's Jennifer Beal will be one of the solo sopranos performing in a concert program at Illinois State University.

Congratulations to Raymond J. Scarpelli of Antioch Lake who has been named to the dean's list at Northwood Inst., Midland, Mi..

If you don't believe that you can see the world at Uncle Sam's expense, how about Pvt. Eddie L. Gholston, Jr., who has just arrived for duty in Glessen, West Germany. He is the son of Glenn and Clara B. Aanerud of Antioch.

Hundreds visit Bank's home fair

Exhibitors and bank personnel on the spacious second floor of the State Bank of Antioch welcomed a steady stream of hundreds of visitors to the First State Bank of Antioch Home Improvement Fair held on April 15 and 16.

Local contractors demonstrated general construction, new windows, doors, compact heating and cooling systems, modern plumbing and electrical products, floor and wall coverings, utility cost savings measures and information, burglar alarm systems, a range of lumber products, local architectural structures, with a variety of lending options available at the State Bank for customers with home improvement needs. Information was available on how and where to obtain necessary building permits.

"Our eighteen exhibitors did a very professional job," said Wally Jaskowski, State Bank assistant vice president of Installment Loans. "The Fair was an opportunity for established local business people to review a visitor's home improvement needs and cost-effective energy projects.

There was a tremendous number of serious shoppers."

State Bank lending personnel were available during the hours of the Fair to assist with financing information and convenient repayment plans. "FHA Guaranteed loans, home equity loans and less prohibitive rates are a good incentive for customers to make needed property improvements now," said State Bank president, Andy Bernhardt, "and we look forward to serving the needs of people who will be bringing in their cost estimates for projects they plan with the good weather months ahead."

The three top door prize winners in the Home Improvement Fair, drawing were: $500 — 1st prize Nanci Behrendt, Antioch; $300 — 2nd prize Frank Johnson, Antioch; $200 — 3rd prize Richard Strykowski, Trevor.

Top prizes will be paid out by the State Bank of Antioch on any home improvement project of each winner.

Winners of the random drawing for miscellaneous tools are: Storage Organizer - Rita DiTuro, Antioch; Level - Richard Ruck, Antioch; Heavy-Duty Staple Gun - Frank Angelos, Lake Villa; Hammer - Paul Cuho, Lindenhurst; Rivet Tool Kit - Kimberley Isaacson, Antioch; Rule - A. Gange, Lindenhurst; T-Square - Omer Hoste, Antioch.

1/4-inch Variable Electric Drill - Margaret Reofern, Antioch; 1/4-inch Variable Electric Drill - Pat Mouton, Antioch; Electric Jigsaw - Dee Samson, Antioch; Electric Sander - Ella McDonald, Lake Villa; Cross Cut Saw - Arlene Gussarson, Antioch; Ladder - Paul Gofron, Lake Villa.

"The community's response to the Fair is certainly encouraging," said State Bank Board chairman, Bill Brook.

The success of the two-day event has inspired bank management to consider expansion of exhibit spaces throughout the bank for Spring, 1984.

Our driest state is Nevada. Its annual rainfall averages 8.8 inches.

Diamondmen win first two

Despite the fact that spring has not really arrived according to the thermometer, the Antioch High School varsity baseball team took to the diamond last week, even dodging snowflakes during the base runs, on Saturday, April 16.

The Sequoits started out the rather chilly, wet season with a bang, winning both of the games they played against Round Lake and Johnsburg.

Antioch took Round Lake, 2-0, on Monday, April 11, with a three-hit, no error game.

Vince Gawrecki was on the mound for the Sequoits. He went the distance, striking out seven and walking three.

Antioch got both of its runs in the first inning. John Silanoff walked to first, took second on a wild pitch, went to third on a grounder by Les Zitkus and went home on a balk by the Panther's pitcher.

Then a single by Frank Mahar brought in Zitkus.

The Sequoits skunked Johnsburg, 8-1, at Johnsburg on Saturday, with doubles gotten in the fourth and fifth inning the key to the lopsided score.

Derek Olsen got a double, driving in Antioch's first two runs in the fourth, closely followed by a triple from Jerry Haling that brought Olsen home.

John Humphreys led off the fifth with a double which was backed-up by John Mahar's double that brought Humphreys past home plate. Then an overthrow brought the man on third in. Zitkus was the winning pitcher.

"We had only one error in that game and the boys finally came through with the timely hitting in the fourth," said Antioch Coach Tom Baba.

The Sequoits will be 2-0 overall and 2-0 in Northwest Suburban Conference play, when they meet Warren, at Warren, on Monday, April 18.

They will play Wauconda on Wednesday, April 20, and Waukegan East, on Saturday, April 23.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. R. A. Sona,

OPTOMETRIST

TV GLASSES

What? wear glasses to watch TV? Can't I use my reading glasses? "Yes" to the first question; but "No" to the second. Some people, often when they pass the 50-year mark, can benefit by wearing glasses when they watch television. Reading glasses won't help.

If you have trouble in seeing at this distance, especially for long periods of time, you should have your eyes examined. If your eyes tend to water or you feel any kind of eye strain when watching television, your eyes need help. Why let eye discomfort take some of the pleasure from watching your favorite shows?

Reading glasses are for reading; for seeing the printed word close up, comfortably. Your TV screen is a lot farther away from your face than a book or magazine would be. Reading glasses may only increase the strain.

Some people can benefit from wearing glasses only when they watch TV. It's worth checking out with your eye doctor.
